Neuro Linguistic Programming Practitioner plus Coaching Certificate

This unique award-winning programme combines both NLP and Coaching theory and practice.

This represents a real opportunity for individuals to gain recognised qualifications in the field of human potential.

The 20-day award-winning NLP and Coach training is divided into ten 2-day seminars delivered over 10 months. To ensure you get the most from the training, there will be a lively variety of learning formats: large group presentations, special 'how to' demonstrations, small group exercises, step-by-step individual coaching, diagnostic sessions, practical skill-building work, tasks and discussion, and plenty of opportunity to have your questions answered as you go along.

To ensure optimum supervised practice we have a team of qualified assistants and build practice sessions into each module. Between seminars we encourage personal reflection and practice.

You will learn how to...

- Build and maintain rapport - the key to successful relationships
- Master advanced communications and influencing skills
- Achieve clarity on what you want in the key areas of your life
- Learn how to design powerful success strategies
- Use metaphor effectively, as all great communicators do
- Generate well-formed outcomes and know how to achieve them
- Help move a person or organisation to where they need to be
- Create successful individual and organisational change
- Change unwanted behaviours
- Determine what is important to yourself and others
- Use various coaching models effectively
- Create your own personal state of excellence
- Communicate clearly and effectively
- Mediate and negotiate more successfully
- Recognise and use powerful language patterns
- Develop your behavioural flexibility and creativity
- Develop key coaching skills
- Set up a Coaching / NLP Practice

What people are saying about this course

"A brilliant course overall! I have thoroughly enjoyed the Practitioner Course/Coaching Diploma. You and Chris (and the team), have been fantastic, professional, encouraging, supportive and very knowledgeable! I have been so impressed by the depth and content of the material, the programme is demanding and anyone signing up to it should know that it is not an easy ride, but it is a motivating, experiential and life changing ride. I thank you for this".

Lynne Copp : Managing Director

"An outstanding program, with trainers of the highest calibre. The tools, skills and information I gained from this program enabled me to double my income in under a year"

Alison Lyons : Senior Program Manager

"It is as if I awoke last year and became aware of my world for the first time. If only I had known then what I know now..... This course developed not only the confidence and ability to challenge myself and the individuals in my team, but also invaluable skills to help those people to make a real difference in our business".

Mark Turner : Operations Director

"A professionally, passionately delivered course that will equip you with the tools to develop yourself and others in a way you could never imagined. Tony and the team are supportive, the resources are endless and the value for money excellent. In one year I gained two promotions, increased my earnings by £10,000 and learnt so much about myself. The sky is the limit for me now...what are you waiting for".

Sarah Rodgers : Operations Manager
